John's Island Community Service League gives grant to Adult Day Care

Vero Beach, FL April 13, 2016 John's Island Community Service League recently awarded Senior Resource Association's Adult Day Care a $25,000 grant to support its existing scholarship program for caregivers and clients. As the only non-profit, licensed Adult Day Care in Indian River County, the centers are open to adults age 18 and over with cognitive or physical disabilities and seniors with Alzheimer's or dementia. Located in Vero Beach and Sebastian, the centers are state-licensed by the Agency of Health Care Administration (AHCA).

"Our Adult Day Care centers are growing and thriving, thanks to generous donors and organizations like John's Island Community Service League. Families and caregivers are realizing the tremendous benefits our supervised programs can provide for their loved ones," said Karen Deigl, SRA CEO and President.

Open Monday through Friday from 7:30am to 5:30pm, the centers provide programs to encourage social interaction and mental stimulation, including games and activities, arts and music, and supervised outings. With a caregiver ratio of 1:5, careful attention is provided to each client.

To arrange a tour and learn more about Adult Day Care eligibility requirements, contact Shawna Callaghan, Director of Programs at 772.569.0760.
